AI & AUTOMATION DIAGNOSTIC

See where your next customers are already waiting

A focused, one-week review of how your business answers, follows up and books new inquiries, with a clear plan for where automation can help you grow.

What you get

A response check of your real channels
With your permission, we send test inquiries by phone, web form and message, and time how fast and how well each one is answered.

A review of your tools and daily routine
We look at how inquiries move from first contact to booked job, and where time goes on manual tasks.

Your opportunity estimate, in your own numbers
Using your figures, we estimate the revenue and hours faster follow-up and automation could add back.

A written diagnostic report
Your top opportunities ranked by impact and effort, simple first steps you can take yourself, and a 90-day plan.

A 30-minute readout call
We walk you through the findings and answer every question. The report is yours to keep.

Channels we can check: phone and voicemail, web forms, website chat, social and map messages, email, booking calendar, CRM or spreadsheet, and reviews. We work with the tools you already use.

How it works

1 Intake
A short questionnaire about your business and how inquiries reach you.

2 Call & tests
A 45-minute call, plus test inquiries on the channels you approve.

3 Report
Your scorecard, opportunity estimate and 90-day plan, in plain English.

4 Readout
We walk you through it. You decide what, if anything, comes next.

A great fit if you get calls, forms or messages every week and book appointments or send quotes. Honest by design: we only recommend what fits your business, our estimates use your numbers, and we never promise specific results.
